From a small farming community in the pre World War 1 days, to one of the world's finest ginger producers, food processors and tourist destinations, Buderim Ginger is a long-standing and proudly successful Australian business. It all started with some raw ginger pieces that found their way to Buderim, Australia many, many years ago. They thrived in the rich volcanic soil, the high rainfall and humidity. When the Second World War cut ginger supply from China, sales of the Buderim produced crop soared. As a result of this, five Buderim farmers met together in an old blacksmith's shop and formed The Buderim Ginger Grower's Co-operative Association Limited. Between them they had capital of 25 pounds, two wooden vats, 14 tons of green ginger and plenty of Australian spirit.

FAN's success to-date has been driven by facilitating opportunities for members to connect, build capability, increase knowledge and grow their profile.

FAN is creating a culture of collaboration where there is a high level of trust that underpins members feeling supported. This, in turn, leads to a strong 'give back' ethos and a dynamic and engaged cluster.

Backed by a strong community of supporters and partners including Food Innovation Australia Ltd, Regional Councils, Regional Development Australia and research organisations, FAN's members are leading the way in showing how responding to challenges and opportunities together, accelerates growth and creates a stronger and more resilient industry, economy and communities.
